MORTON DOWNS HAGERSTOWN BY 36-12 SCORE

By KEN MURPHY
Palladium Sports Editor

Tired and foot-weary from enough basketball during the last six weekends in addition to practices, to cause a more matured team to become sluggish—Morton's Red Devils defeated Hagerstown in a game at the Coliseum Saturday night, 36-12.

From the start of the game it was only a matter of how large a score could be run up on the smaller foe. Hagerstown, playing against a team that held a great advantage in height, never stopped fighting and with any breaks on its basket shooting, would have made the game quite a bit closer.

The Morton regulars were kept in most of the game, LaMar and Eggemeyer got two or three minutes rest

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Nineteen basketball games, featured by Purdue resuming its quest for the Western conference championship and Indiana Central seeking its 12th and 13th consecutive victories of the season, are on this week's college schedule for Indiana teams.

Purdue, away from the basketball court since Jan. 15 because of mid-year examinations, will warm up against Wabash at Lafayette Wednesday night, and then swing into the Big Ten title play on Saturday night against Iowa at Lafayette.

The Boilermakers are the only undefeated players in the conference so far this season, having won four games in a row.

Indiana university, which still has a chance to get somewhere in the Big Ten race, will get a crack at Iowa at Bloomington tonight. Purdue scouts will watch the game.

Butler's Bulldogs, after their second consecutive Missouri Valley conference championship, clash with Creighton at Omaha, Neb., tonight. It will be the second meeting of the season between the teams, Butler winning the first at Indianapolis on Jan. 20 by a 48-30 score.

Continuing play in the Missouri Valley conference, Butler will meet Grinnell at Grinnell, Iowa tomorrow night, and will return to Indianapolis in time for a contest on Saturday night against Oklahoma Aggies.

Undefeated Team

Indiana Central, the only undefeated college team in the state, will resume its play tomorrow night against Franklin at Franklin. Indiana Central has won 11 consecutive games this season. The team will be back in action on Saturday night, meeting Central Normal at Indianapolis.

Evansville will seek revenge from DePauw at Greencastle tomorrow night in what may prove to be a sensational game. DePauw won the first game between the teams on Dec. 23, 27-25.

Ball State, too, will have a chance this week to even things up with Indiana State. They will meet at Muncie Friday night. Indiana State won the first encounter a few weeks ago, 33-15.

Earlham, too, is looking forward to Saturday night in the hope of evening things up with Wabash, on the home floor at Richmond. Early last month, Wabash trimmed Earlham, 35 to 23.

Notre Dame, still smarting at the defeat handed it by Pittsburgh, has two games carded for the week. The Irish will go up against Minnesota of the Big Ten at South Bend tomorrow night, and on Saturday night will engage St. Xavier college at Cincinnati.

Notre Dame is looking ahead eagerly to the second encounter of the year with Pittsburgh, set for Feb. 17 at South Bend, and believes it will turn the tablets. Pittsburgh broke a long winning streak for the Benders, triumphing by a 39-34 score at Pittsburgh on Jan. 20.

With games scheduled for every night in the week, the schedule is one of the heaviest of the season in Indiana.

Morton Imps Defeat Hagerstown Seconds

Willing To Strengthen Club By Buying, Trading

MacPhail Will Be Executive Vice President and General Manager—Syndicate Purchases Controlling Interest

CINCINNATI, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Powell Crosley, Jr., millionaire Cincinnati manufacturer and sportsman, today headed the Cincinnati Reds after the second reorganization of the National league baseball club within three months.

Crosley was elected president after a syndicate including himself, L. S. (Larry) MacPhail, executive vice president and general manager, and Charles Sawyer, lieutenant-governor of Ohio, bought the controlling interest in the club from the Central Trust company of Cincinnati. The amount involved was not made public.

Announcement of the transaction was made yesterday by MacPhail, who, since he took over the reins of the Reds from Sidney Weil three months ago, has been working strenuously to rebuild the club that has finished in last place for the last three years.

Crosley, a poloist, aviator, hunter and fisherman, took the presidency of the Reds as a civic responsibility, it was said.

"Mr. Crosley," MacPhail said, "was convinced that the Reds perform a definite civic service for the city of Cincinnati and on this account has made an investment in and agreed to accept the presidency of the club.

"The reorganization," he added, "makes it possible for the Reds to function as an aggressive member of the National league. I am happy with the set-up and our prospects."

Weil recently filed a petition in bankruptcy listing liabilities of nearly a million dollars and assets of only $250.

The new president of the Reds is 47 years old, and started his career as an automobile salesman after a college life in which he played baseball and football.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—(AP)—Heartened by the reorganization of the Cincinnati Reds, National league club owners and managers gathered for their schedule meeting tomorrow and perhaps to trade as well.

Powell Crosley, Jr., millionaire manufacturer who was named president of the Cincinnati club yesterday, and L. S. (Larry) MacPhail, vice president and general manager, made a surprise appearance at the annual dinner of the New York chapter, Baseball Writers association, last night, and immediately let it be known they were in a trading, or buying, mood.

Will Strengthen Club

"If any move can be made to strengthen the club we will make it," Crosley declared. "We are in the field for better players if they can be obtained, either by trade or purchase. I will rely on Mr. MacPhail's judgment as to baseball ability, and he knows that I will back him in any move he makes to put together a team which will be a credit to Cincinnati."

Other clubs were reported equally ready for business. Hack Wilson, Joe Stripp, Glenn Wright and Jake Flowers of the Brooklyn Dodgers all were reported to be trading material with Philadelphia and perhaps Boston most interested. Pat Malone, big right hander who is waging a salary argument with the Chicago Cubs, also might wind up with another club.

The Baseball Writers' dinner was marked by the award of the writers' plaque to Carl Hubbell, famous Giants' pitcher, as the outstanding performer of last year, and of a special token to Walter Johnson as the player who has contributed most to baseball over a period of years. Both were honored also by their respective leagues, Hubbell receiving a silver service from the National league and Johnson a wrist watch from the American league.

ELKS TO HOLD GOLF DINNER ON MARCH 15

Trophies for winning golf championships at the Elks links last season will be awarded at the annual golf dinner of the club, to be held March 15, at the Country club, it was announced today.

Those who will receive awards are: John Lemon, champion of the club; Henry Beck, winner of the Class "B" tournament; Ralph Englebert, winner of the Class "C" tournament and Mrs. Roland Kemper, winner of the women's championship.

Clarence Ferling is chairman of the committee in charge of this dinner and he will be assisted by William Anderson, Mac Slosser, Lawrence Maplesden, Marion Coulter and Noah Stegall.
